LONDON, June 2 .- Earl Kitchener mentary critics of the war office. Complying with the promise made on his behalf in the house of commons by the parliamentary undersecretary for war. Harold J. Tennant, in response to complaints of members that they had not had opportunity to question the secretary for war, the famous general went to one of the committee rooms of the house prepared to make a statement on the conduct of the war and reply to questions.

Mexico and condemned the administration for its Mexican policy.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas it is represented that at the time of the recent revolt in Ireland there were, and are yet, many American citizens in districts in which martial law was proclaimed and in which armed conflicts occurred: and whereas the relatives and friends in this country of such American citizens, whose safety has thus been endanger.

to questions.

The war secretary was accompanied by several members of his staff and the political heads of the war office. He faced some 200 members, including what are known as the "ginger groups," composed of men who demand more vigorous prosecution of the war. The public was excluded rigorously. Indeed, the whole of Westminster Palace was shut off to avoid leakage of any secret information which might be elicited.

Attorney Opposes Divorcing Southern Pacific Rail and Water Lines.

A divorce of the Southern Pacific 'ompany's rail and water lines under the Panama canal act probably would mean the end of low through rates from coast to coast on low grade freight, Fred H. Wood, counsel for the ompany, argued yesterday before the interstate commerce commission.

Wylie M. Barrow, assistant attorney general of Louislana, also argued against severance of the lines, Examiner Elder of the commission asserted er Elder of the commission asserted that the Southern Pacific sought to re-tain its steamship lines not because of altruistic motives, but because they are exceedingly profitable.

fellow officer on the "vice inlawful entry of the home of Mrs. tose Kenneth March 16 last, began in the United States branch of the Police Court at 11:30 o'clock this morning, with Judge Mullowny on the bench. The sudden determination on the part of the defendant to have his case tried before a judge instead of stand-ing by his original demand of trial by ing by his original demand of trial by jury came as a surprise to the prosecution. Policeman Elliott, against whom a similar charge is proffered, has elected to await the outcome of his brother officer's trial before deciding whether he desires to present his case before judge or a jury.

Prosecutor Opens Case.

The case was opened with an ex planation by Assistant United States district Attorney Ralph Given, of

The witness stated the two officers had come to her home, and under assumed names had tried to obtain lodging in the rooms which she advertised for rent. She identified Howes and Elliott, who sat together during the trial, and went on to tell how, on the night of March 16, she received a severe shock when these men forced an entry into her home, 326-328 Delaware avenue northeast, at 2 o'clock in the morning. She testified that, having detected the men while they were still outside the house, she telephoned to the sixth precinct station for a policeman to come and protect her.

Subsequent Events Described.

How this policeman arrived, how he met the intruders and how she came to know of the alleged purpose of their visit, was described at length by the witness. Under cross-examination by Attorney Arthur A. Birney of counsel for the defense the fact was established that Mrs. Kenneth rented rooms to those who applied for a night's lodging, that she kept a register of such guests, and that she also conducted a business of selling souvenirs.
